

ALEXANDRIA.

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 13.

The action of the Senate, on Saturday, in the impeachment case, by which they refused to allow Gen. Sherman to state any of the conversations between him and the President, was in the face of the decision of Chief Justice Chase favoring the admissibility of the testimony. This decision, also, rules out all the conversations which the President had with others, relative to his intention in regard to the removal of Mr. Stanton, and deprives his counsel of the benefit of the testimony which they most relied upon. One of the most obstinate Senators on this point was Mr. Sherman, the brother of the general. This action of the Senate, in refusing to receive General Sherman's testimony will have a very bad effeet upon the country, going far to prove the want of impartiality which is already charged against so many members of that body.

In the opening prayer of the Virginia Reconstruction Convention, one day last week, the chaplain "asked deliverance from the arm of the military and the capricious whims of arbitrary rulers." The explanation of this invocation from a radical and "truly loyal" man is the dissatisfaction of the friends of Hunnicutt for Governor, with the appointment by Gen. Schofield of Gen. Wells temporarily to that position, which it is feared will give the latter an undue advantage over Hunnicutt, in the popular election for Governor.

Hunnicutt has opened the campaign with a

"Then come, boys, come And join the Union clan; Then cheer, boys, cheer, For Hunnicutt is our man."

This is positively sublime! and heart stiring. Isn't it? It is the poetry, and the song; troubles have arisen at Guaymas, on the Paciisn't it? It can be changed to "Hawkshurst | fic coast, between the citizens and the troops. is our man," or any other man, who will suit

A letter from Washington says that none of the big work of the session, such as the finances, the taxes, and the tariff, has yet been entered upon. Senator Sherman has warned the majority in Congress that they dare not go before the people in the next Presidential election without having devised some acceptable system in regard to the finances and the publie debt, and the question of internal taxation is one of scarcely less importance. Then the fight on the tariff will be more bitter than ever, his year.

The Montgomery (Ala.) Mail, in publishing he order of Gen. O. L. Shepherd, against the so-called Ku Klux Klan, says: "Gen. Shepherd issues the order against a society in whose existence no sane man in the State believes .-We defy him to specify a single outrage, &c., which is traceable to any such association.— Every publication, placard, &c., which has appeared about the mystical Klan, is well known to have originated with some half grown youths, who are always ready for sport.'

Returns from twenty-two counties in Michi gan give a majority of thirty-two thousand against the new constitution embodying negro suffrage. Full returns will swell the above majority to over thirty-five thousand. Here is one of the most Radical States in the Union which emphatically pronounces against giving the ballot to the few blacks in her borders, while her Senators are voting to impose negro suffrage upon the helpless people of the South.

A bill has passed the Senate, by a vote of 37 to 8, regulating the empanelling of juries. -This bill makes eligible as jurors men who may have formed an opinion on general report, but who may otherwise declare themselves in their belief as competent to give an impartial verdict upon the law and the evidence. The bill is understood to be aimed to meet the cases of Mr. Davis and Surratt.

Yesterday, 12th, was the anniversary of the birthday of Henry Clay. There was one man that we know of, who remembered it-and who, in the old Virginia fashion, drank to his memory-trusting that if such a thought was sinful on the holy Easter Day, "the recording an-gel in Heaven's chancery, would drop a tear his wife committed suicide by shooting herself. apon it, and blot it out forever!"

The political world in Great Britain is considerably excited on the question of the Irish Unurch, and petitions for and against Mr. Gladstone's resolution were being signed in all parts of the country. On all the large posting bill boardings about London are to be seen placards, many of them containing language of | bly noticed. the most inflammatory character.

The Cincinnati Commercial, speaking of the extravagance of Congress, says: "The House passed the bill to continue the Freedmen's Bureau, which has cost the Treasury already over four millions of dollars, to keep up the costly tutelage of negroes, who should take care of themselves, with the protection of the ordinary military power."

The new French army bill and the military preparations now in progress have created a great deal of excitement and uneasiness throughout France, which the Government journals are endeavoring to dispel by assurances that thus putting the country upon a war footing, is the best pledge of peace!

The ultra Radical papers are exerting themselves, strenuously, to give "back bone" to the Senate, in the matter of the Impeachment. There is no occasion for the effort. We expect there will be "back bone," and "cheek" enough, for that work. at least.

Lydick, of the "Virginia Reconstruction Convention" is very indignant at General Schofield's course, and thinks he is no better than a "copperhead." There is a great deal of bad feeling prevailing among the Radicals of Lydick's stamp.

In some of the lower counties in this State, it is said, that idle and worthless colored people, who will not work for their living, are roaming about the country shooting and killing hogs and sheep, and in some instances cattle, and carrying off the carcases for good.

Mr. E. Gibson having offered a resolution in the Virginia Convention about Bayne's being treated by Gen. Grant uncorteously, Bayne said-"it wasn't so that Gen. Grant had treated him misrespectfully!"

Wm. M. Semple, esq, formerly of Lynchburg, connected for several years past, with the New Orleans Crescent, died in New Orleans a few days ago. He was a gentleman of talents and a true Virginian.

The New York Times is inclined to believe it is quite true that the deposition of President Johnson and the installation of Mr. Wade are foregone conclusions.

According to the Warrenton Index Geo. Tucker's speech at Warrenton to the colored there, was all that it is reported to have been.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the Times.

The suit of Hester C. Payne vs. John L. Wrightson, for breach of promise of marriage, that has for some time past attracted considerable attention on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, was brought to a conclusion last week. The parties are residents of Dorchester county. The amount of damages claimed by the young lady was $25,000. The jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, and assessed the damages at $6,600.

A renewal of hostilities by the Indians on the Plains is apprehended during the summer at the same angle, which varies but a few demonths. The causes assigned are the outrages still committed by white settlers and others, and the delay of the Government in fulfilling its treaty stipulations.

The New York World is compiling an appalling record of recent suicides gleaned from one day's exchanges from all parts of the country, clearly showing that the suicide mania is now epidemic. They appear largely to predominate in the West.

A revival of business in the West is reported in the newspapers of that section. The freighting business from New York to the West is said to be heavy and remunerative, and the shipping trade between that city and New England is also active.

The artillery school of the U.S. army, at Fortress Monroe, was formally opened with appropriate ceremonies on Tuesday. The officers of the garrison and numerous ladies and gentlemen were in attendance.

O. T. Delvin and F. D. McNamee, prominent citizens of Montreal and well known sympathizers with the Fenians, were arrested in that city on Friday.

The Canadian authorities profess to have evidence connecting the prisoner Whelan, recently arrested, very closely with the assassination of D'Arcy McGee.

Letter from Fairfax Co.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] FAIRFAX Co., April 10. -It is proper that the attention of the public should be called to a subject, which is of much interest to land owners in this, and, probably, in Alexandria county. I am not personally acquainted with the history of things as they transpired, but I have been told that within the last six years, there have been quite a number of farms sold for the taxes due on them-so ordered by the Auditor of the State, previous to an act prohibiting that kind of procedure. Many of the parties concerned are totally ignorant of these facts. These sales will be valid in June next, if the matter is not seen into, and the property redeemed; which can be done by paying the purchase money with ten per cent interest from the time of sale. The parties that will be thus deprived of their property are unknown to me. Yet I feel an interest in them, and thus take occasion through the columns of the Gazette to advise the land holders of these two counties to search the records of the Clerk's Offices, to know certainly whether the taxes have been regularly A CITIZEN.

It was elicited that Mr. Johnson had at two seperate interviews offered him the position of Secretary of War ad interim. The President's counsel endeavoed to elicit from him what the President had said at these interviews, and to this end propounded several questions, all of which were objected to by General Butler and the objection sustained by the Senate. I the Gen. had been allowed to answer the questions, his testimony would have been that the President merely asserted his wish to bring the question of Mr. Stanton's right to the office of Secretary of War, before the Supreme Court.

THE NATURAL BRIDGE. -The tract of land of 165 acres on Cedar creek, in Rockbridge county, and including that world-renowned curiosity, "The Natural Bridge," is, as has been already stated, offered for sale. The property is now in "successful operation as a hotel property." The Natural Bridge, which is associated with many interesting traditions of the fathers of Virginia, was once on the property of Thomas Jefferson, who, if we mistake not, took it up under a land warrant. It is situated in the southeastern corner of Rockbridge county, in the midst of the wild scenery of the Blue Ridge region, and almost under its shadows upon its western side. At a point twelve miles from Buchanaan, passing around the foot of a hill upon a rapidly descending road, the traveller suddenly finds himself upon a narrow track, like a lane between two high wooden fences. From his horse he may look over these fences into space, but nothing would suggest to him that he is upon that great natural bridge so celebrated in the history of the country. This grand but simple structure is suspended over a chasm nearly one hundred feet wide and two hundred feet deep, the two parallel walls of stratified lime-stone inclining grees from the vertical. Cedar creek flows under it. At the base of the bridge many names of travellers and visitors are carved upon the walls. One of the traditions is that General Washington climbed to a great height | D. It remained for a native of Rockbridge, Colonel Piper, to outstrip all competitors and carve his name where none heve yet dared to show above, viz: thirty whites and three ne-

This property must always be interesting, and as population increases, will become more and more valuable as hotel property. No stranger will be content to pass near the Natural Bridge without seeing it.-Richmond Whig.

ANOTHER SCENE. - In the Virginia Reconstruction Convention, on Friday, when the Homestead Exemption matter was being voted on, a result was changed by a parlia mentary outrage similar to one perpetrated a day or so ago. As the vote was announced, it was suggested from the Radical side that it was doubtful as to whether there were 91 members present. The Secretary was requested to read the vote to make this matter certain. The roll was read, and the Radical leaders, who had in the mean time prevailed upon a negro member and Hunnicutt to change their votes from the negative to the affirmative, made this a subtertuge by which members could claim the privilege of changing their votes. White, who was in the chair, decided in favor of this piece of pretty rascality. An appeal was taken from this, which was voted down. A scene of disgraceful confusion ensued caused in part by a demonstration of applause on the part of Radicals at the saccess of their scheming. About a dozen members claimed the floor, and as many more were clamoring points of order. In the midst of this, Carter bawled out, "Mr. President, I'm afeard the sperit of the K. K. K.'s has got into this body." [Loud laughter.]

Milbourne (confusion slightly subsided) "I don't know what you may think about it Mr. President, but I think this is a pack o the biggest fools I ever did see. If you can't geant-at-Arms to help you." [Loud laughter and confusion.

Quiet was at length restored. - Richmond

FAUQUIER ITEMS. - On Sunday week, about day-break, the residence of Mr. Albert G. Smith, near Bethel Church, in Fauquier county, was destroyed by fire, together with several out-houses.-Mr. S., his wife and two children narrowly escaped with their lives.

Mr. Arther M. Payne, father of Gen. Wm. H. Payne died on the 3d inst., near Columbia, Boone county. Mo., from an affection of the heart, in the 64th year of his age. Mr. P. moved from Fauquier county some 12 or 14 years ago to Missouri.

The trial of J. Washington Fletcher for the murder of Ernest G. Hunton at New Baltimore last October, which occupied several days of Judge Thomas's Court now in session, was concluded on Thursday, the jury returning a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first de-gree," without a consultation of five minutes after the case was submitted. We learn from the Enquirer that E. B. Gates, late Bureau officer at Warrenton, was arrested with others at Richmond on Wednesday, charged with defrauding the U.S. Government and suborning witnesses in cases of whiskey frauds. He was a Government detective from Washington city.- Warrenton Index.

The Richmond Enquirer says: "To the many gentlemen from the North, who have come among us to unite their fortunes with those of our own neople, we cannot be too kind. And they should be taught that we have buried the hates and passions engendered by great contempt, or excommunicate with too much abhorrence, the mere miserable "adven-The Criminal Court will resume the trial of the offices from which they are seeking to ex- like it-for delays were always dangerous!" clude our best and most caapable citizens."

A. M. TUBLKAN,

The Virginia Convention.

The Richmond Dispatch has compiled an account which ought not to be lost to future records, and forcibly illustrates the character of the body now exercising the functions of "Sovereignty" over the people of Virginia. This record we publish that the people of the North may see the repulsiveness of the odious tyranny which hangs upon us. A proposition to give this body existence in perpetuo, was made by one of their number in the "Convention" two days ago, but we trust the milicary authorities will not permit so monstrous a thing. Their only purpose is to continue drawing the extravagant per diem of eight dollars a day from our depleted treasury, and the sooner they are driven from their prey, the nearer will be the day of our deliverance, and the return of prosperity to the South and to the whole country.

IMMIGRANTS. - Within the last few days two parties of English and Scotch immigrants have arrived in this city, under the auspices of the Virginia Immigration Society.

Several of these are skilled mechanics who have found employment in this city. Col. B. P. Walker was supplied with some farm hands from among them.

We learn that other parties are expected in a few days-among them a skilled Scotch gardener and his wife. Let those who want such send in their orders. - Lynchburg Virginian.

COMMUNICATED. A very worthy colored man, a few days ago was listening to the reading of one of the fantastical notices of the "K. K. K," as published in a newspaper, in which it was stated-"At midnight—when it thunders—Beware, &c, &c." He laughed, with the gentlemen, at the nonsence-but went home and told his old woman, repeating the very words. They made a deeper impression upon her than they had upon him. That night the wind rose, and three planks which had been propped against the house, were blown over and fell with a crash! With one bound the wife sprang from the bed, uttered a shriek and exclaimed. "Bress God! Its the Klux Lux come at last."

"Well," said the sensible old man," if dey's come, dey may stay-but I'm not gwine to get up and let 'em in.'
